

During week one...

One lady stopped reading the book to buy 15 copies for her friends, citing that the restoration of our marriage inspired her and that the book will surely help many. Another person also bought 15 copies for friends, saying that the book skyrockets faith. Another man bought 5 copies to share with friends and then pledged $1,000 per month toward the orphans we care for. A lady who says her life was in total chaos reported that after spending a few hours in the book she had an all-night-dream in which she was walking with royalty, giving her life to help the poor. She said it brought her a tremendous sense of order, peace and excited hope for her own life/order.

A man wrote me from New York Center, the air traffic control facility where I worked on 9/11, and said that the book is the talk of not only the control room (where controllers work) but the entire facility (meaning, regional administrative staff as well). He went on to hurl many insults at me, accusing me of being a fraud (Matt. 5:10-12). Rather than being offended, I spoke to him with steadfast love and confidence. Then Susan and I began praying for him. Before bed, we were dumbfounded to receive an apology email from him and he even confided in me about personal matters. We continue to pray for him through God's unconditional love.

During its second week...

...of publication, a Hollywood-connected screenwriter contacted us "out of the blue" to inquire about making the book into a movie. We subsequently entered into contract with the screenwriter & the book is now becoming a movie!

Praise be to God thru Jesus Christ,
Robert.
